

BULLDOG

Dedication

Lovingly, with deep gratitude, we dedicate the Bulldog of 1973 to the memory Eddie Burnett. The quick smile, the sparkling brown eyes, the sunny disposition, the cheerful willingness to do those things which needed to be done remain in our memories. These very qualities led Eddie to volunteer to serve his country and to make the ultimate sacrifice for the way of life he believed in and for the people he loved. Eddie loved to mimic Will Rogers. They were much alike, for Eddie also never knew a person he didn't like. He lived among us in love. His passing gave us sorrow. His sacrifice can never be forgotten. The memory of the vibrant, joking, impish Eddie will always give us joy.

Book of Memories

Memories make a rainbow in our thoughts,
Each thought beginning on a new horizon,
And each one ending in its pot of gold -
Bright coins of mirth and joy and love -
And duller coins of loss and grief and work.

Here, in this book, we laugh at pictures of the young at play.

Here we relive the joys of having met and passed each goal -

And remember with love those whose lives
we touched in passing.

Of all these things our memories are made -

Working together to give us pride in self and others

And all the fun when all the work was done.

Back on the pages of our book of time we turn our sight

From what we were to what we are today.

Mirth and joy and friends and gladness -

Work and loss and love and sadness -

We find here in our book of memories at last.

JAY SEPTIC TANK CO.

It has been fun working on your "Book of Memories" for 1972-73. A group of great kids worked hard with dedication and self-sacrifice, to make this book a reality.

To Miss Queener, the yearbook staff will be forever grateful. Her warm smile and cheerful disposition made it a joy for us, even when we were eight pages short the day after a deadline.

We would like to thank Mrs. Pendergraf for all of the help she has given us. Her writing is truly beautiful as you can see in the introduction and dedication.

Without the cooperation of the faculty and students, this book could not have been a success. To each of you, therefore, we say a very special thanks.

May this book truly be a "Book of Memories," and a yearbook to treasure for the rest of your lives.

To each of you I am eternally grateful, for this book is truly a "Memory" book of love.

Sincerely,

Susan Dunham
Editor
